

Autumn 2020

Speak Up: Young Activists Project

The Dukes is launching a brand new digital film project, 'Speak Up', and invites anyone aged 12 to 16 interested in becoming an artistic activist to get involved.

From matters of global significance – Black Lives Matter, the climate emergency, and most recently their own futures with exam results, 2020 has been the year of protest and young people making their voices heard.

You will work with Theatre Company Dante or Die and practitioners from Raindance: the largest independent film festival, to create and generate content inspired by the theme of protest.

We're looking young people of any background across Lancashire are who will be invited to learn new skills, share their creations, and learn how to make film in interesting and curious ways.

Workshops will form part of a short film produced by the Dukes, shared in our cinema in spring 2021.
